ABSTRACT:- The article that we are going to present here critically examines the socio-economic effects of the first pandemic from Covid-19 what estimated by Bill Gates and his organization , which will explode soon and was presented as Catastrophic Contagion , more destructive than the previous one.

Starting from this premise, we support the hypothesis that the origin of the SARS-COV-2 virus has been produced in the laboratory with the aim of causing all the economic and health disasters we know.

We also assume that behind the spread of the pandemic from Covid-19 there was a strategic design of global domination by a few powerful organizations. The strategy adopted for the origin and spread of the current pandemic is the same as that already experienced for millennia to trigger wars, but it is more widespread in time and space.

We objectively examine facts and documents proving our thesis, and therefore we assume all responsibility for the complaints presented by the new complex system of domination inaugurated by the economic superpowers, which aim to subjugate the whole world.

We are aware that our intellectual position is strongly critical and outside the framework of political correctness, but it is the only way to shake the consciences of men of science, philosophers and men of good will and involve them in an objective confrontation on the current dystopian society.

We would like to have a global emancipation from all forms of domination, for the general welfare.

Keywords: Pandemic Covid-19 , Pandemic origin , political-economic effects of Pandemic

I. INTRODUCTION

This article is the third dedicated to the same subject, on the origin the spread and the socio-economic effects produced and long-planned, of the pandemic by COVID-19 [2-3] .

In line with our critical position already expressed, in the two previous articles, which is placed outside the single dominant thought and the politically correct, also this manuscript has the sole objective of claiming the right of doubt, of Cartesian memory, and the Popperian method of the verification of scientific knowledge with the falsificability of their theoretical plant, based strictly on facts and documents.

Right of doubt and the exercise of criticism that are constitutionally guaranteed formally, but in fact are strongly compromised and constantly disregarded by the institutions and the prevailing media mainstream.

We are aware of our intellectual position outside the framework of political correctness, but it is the only way to shake the consciences of men of science, philosophers and men of good will and involve them in an objective confrontation on the current dystopian society.

Our sole objective is to seek the objective truth of the facts and in the original documents, to promote popular critical awareness and to emancipate it from all forms of economic and cultural slavery.

“The next pandemic will be much more catastrophic than that one caused in 2019 by Covid-19.”

This announcement was made by Bill Gates, the Microsoft magnate, who has already had a leading role, along with the economic power that with him guides the fate of the world in the production, spread, and management of the pandemic Covid-19 [1].

The Pandemic event was announced at a conference called EVENT 201: Catastrophic Contagion, held in Belgium on 23 October 2022, organized by Bill Gates Together with a small number of famous people . The news appeared in The Modern Times , Fig. 1, [4-5]:

“October 23, 2022–The Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security, in partnership with WHO and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, hosted and conducted Catastrophic Contagion, a pandemic tabletop exercise in Brussels, Belgium.

“current and former Health Ministers and Senior Public Health Officials from Senegal, Rwanda, Nigeria, Angola, Liberia, Singapore, India, Germany, as well as, Bill Gates attended the exercise..”

Fig. 1- From Newspaper The Modern Times

In this Meeting, a pathogenic virus pandemic was simulated, as described by The Modern Times: "Catastrophic Contagion simulated a series of meetings of the WHO Emergency Health Advisory Committee facing a pandemic set in the near future in 2025. Called S.E.E.R.S. 2025 "Severe Respiratory Epidemic Syndrome from Enterovirus 2025".

The epidemic begins in "two Latin American countries", then spreads rapidly. "Becoming a pandemic with a higher fatality rate than COVID-19 and disproportionately affecting children and young people." In the simulation, 1 Billion cases are reached world-wide, with 20 Million people dying, 15 Million of those being children. Those who are left alive would suffer from brain damage and paralysis."

It was the re-edition of a previous event organized by Bill Gates in 2019 [1] that also anticipated the outbreak of a viral pandemic. And it's not the first time. According to Robert F. Kennedy Jr., who filed a documented indictment against Bill Gates and his vaccination obsession and his thirst for "dictatorial control over global health policy" Fig. 2, is part of a strategy aimed at global domination over humanity [6].

Fig. 2- The hegemonic vision of Microsoft tycoon Bill Gates

By a singular coincidence, the same year 2019 the first cases of a strange and new form of viral pneumonia exploded in China.

II. WHY THE COVID-19?

Pandemics, the spread of infectious diseases, and disasters caused by earthquakes or other phenomena triggered by the forces of nature, are completely unpredictable events and we are not equipped to deal with them. Even if it is often the work of man that causes them, as for the ecological devastation and the environmental transformation induced by pollution that are under the eyes of all.

Assimilating the viral pandemic Covid-19 to an unexpected catastrophic and random event, is childish and unrealistic, especially in the light of the numerous tests that have documented that the SARS-virusCov2 was produced in the laboratory and was deliberately or accidentally spread first to China and then to the rest of the world [6-13].

The objective pursued was to cause with the pandemic the extermination of part of the world population, and at the same time to lay the foundations for total control of politics, the world economy, and the social life of humanity, survived the pandemic catastrophe.

The strategy adopted to achieve this objective has been facilitated and justified by the emergency conditions that have arisen.

This project has been defined the New World Order, The Great Reset, and represents the new order that may arise after the catastrophe for economic supremacy on the geopolitical level [14]. Originally dreamed of by great dynasties like Rothschild, Rockefeller, Warburg, Bill Gates, but also by the Vatican, today it is destined to give way to the great superpowers, Russia, China, USA, Middle East, etc., each of which will try to extend its dominance over the rest of the world.

The original design of domination, studied for some time in detail, has been programmed to obtain the total manipulation of the critical consciousness of the populations, and the reduction in socio-economic slavery, a direct consequence of the Pandemic.

The psychological conditioning and obedience of the masses passes through the terror of contagion and death from infection, acting powerfully on the collective unconscious, and with the stigmatization of behaviors that deviate from the dominant opinion and belief imposed on the majority.

Gustav Le Bon (1841-1931), has made school on the Psychology of the masses, and on how it is possible to obtain consensus and condition their behavior [16], not by chance was the author most studied by characters such as Freud, Theodor Roosevelt, Mussolini, De Gaulle, and all the great dictators.

For example, Benito Mussolini wrote that he had read the complete work of Le Bon and, in particular, had repeatedly appreciated the reading of his main theory on the psychology of the masses.

III. THE ECONOMIC EFFECTS OF THE PANDEMIC

As a side effect the pandemic caused by Covid-19 had produced in the two years 2019-2022 an unprecedented economic crisis, with an increase in poverty for the majority of populations, while for the pharmaceutical multinationals producing vaccines and medical devices, it has allowed an exponential enrichment. Oxfam House devoted an entire issue of the magazine to the economic disasters and inequalities produced by the pandemic [17], and several other publications examined the heavy socio-economic cost produced by Covid-19, [18-20].

So if, as announced by the Microsoft tycoon, we can expect a new and more serious viral pandemic than that Covid-19, what will be the strategy adopted by the world institutions, if any, to address the health emergency?

We will see again the scenario and the preventive measures put in place for the Covid-19, with lockdown, masks and vaccinations imposed on all citizens? Or will there be even more drastic and decisive measures, given that those adopted for the previous pandemic have proved ineffective?

IV. ORIGIN OF COVID-19

Towards the end of the year 2019, a strange respiratory epidemic is reported in Wuhan, China, which soon spreads throughout the country and involves other nations in a short time.

The pathogenic viral agent is recognized as Coronavirus, belonging to a viral class SARS-COV-2 on which the experiments of Gain function were performed for a long time, to obtain viral strains with a particular ability to spread and virulence.

In all the countries where the infection has spread, in addition to the numerous deaths caused on the weakest and the elderly by virus, it has given rise to a phase of restriction of freedoms from time programmed, and never previously experienced.

Not even George Orwell in his 1984 and Ray Bradbury in Fahrenheit 451 had imagined a society so dystopian and alienated in its fundamental values as that resulting from the pandemic.

Thus a new method of dictatorial domination over peoples has been experimented, sneaky and apparently justifiable under the aegis of the state of emergency for the defense of public health.

The popular consensus and acquiescence has been built with the media mystification of information on the deadly risk caused by viral infection, the need to follow strict rules of containment of freedom of movement and absurd prevention measures.

Subsequently the need for vaccination was imposed, and the derision of the numerous scientific evidence attesting the experimental origin of the Sars-CoV2 virus, and the ineffectiveness and dangerousness of vaccines. [22-27]

There are nowadays hundreds of bacterial, viral and parasitic diseases far more dangerous and lethal than SARS-COV-2, for which no measure as restrictive as that of COVID-19 has been adopted.

This is witnessed by an impressive report of the Global Preparedness Monitoring Board [21] from which we report Fig. 3.

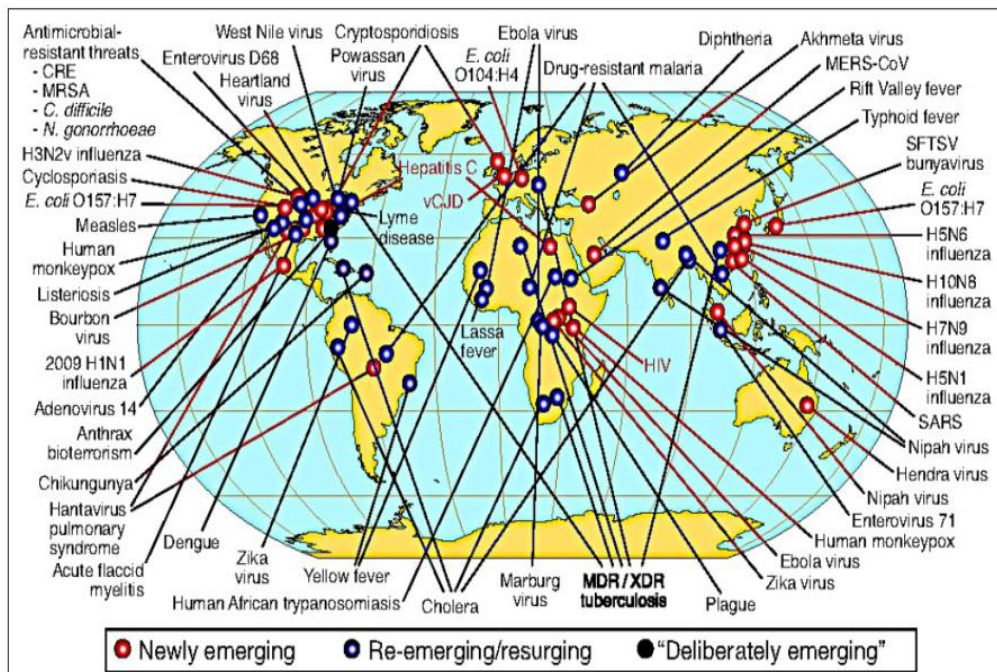

Fig. 3- Spread of viral diseases worldwide

On the biological aspects of viral contagion, spread, and pathogenetic mechanism, the devastating effects produced on the economy, we have dedicated specific articles, to which we refer, and are not going to be repeated in this article [2-3].

Instead, we are interested in examining the objectives of the minority that holds the world's economic and political power wants to achieve.

This minority that wants the universal monopoly of the economy, by means of the pandemic perhaps does not know, or perhaps yes, that with viruses and pathogens in general, no joke.

Microbiological pathogens have an uncontrollable life of their own and a surprising evolutionary and reproductive capacity, they are able to adapt quickly to environmental conditions and the target host, and to overcome any defensive barrier put in place to annihilate them.

The introduction of anti Covid-19 vaccines (improper name for the adopted garrison based on messenger RNA contained in inoculations), imposed forcibly and hastily, contravening the normal procedure of pharmaceutical testing, more effective tool to stimulate the emergence of new variants, as demonstrated by over two years of vaccinations carried out. Inoculations after the fourth dose are always subject to reinfection, not to mention the numerous and dangerous side effects recorded in various countries of the world [21-27].

While an endless series of clinical works have shown that with simple and cheap traditional drugs it is possible to effectively treat subjects affected by the virus [28-30].

But, as if it were not enough the biological pathogens that already loom over our planet, Figure 3, the "vaccinatista compulsive" Bill Gates, and his adept scientists blasonati, cannot help but impose all sorts of vaccination to the world, with the sole objective of decimating its inhabitants and perpetuating the state of curfew from impending pandemic, so as to reduce to the state of total economic subjugation, psychological subordination and concussion of the elementary rights of the world population.

The strategic design of universal domination originally elaborated by a small circle of ultra-rich families is now also functional to the great superpowers that claim a slice of world power.

The programmed viral pandemic is the seemingly less bloody form of subjugating the masses, with psycho-terrorist conditioning and manipulation, to the most repressive forms of tyrannical domination.

The other most destructive form used for centuries to obtain the same result, is the war, also planned by the states, by the world banks and by the war industry, for which the Wars are a source of huge profits.

The war industry, which earns billions through arms sales, and the political undergrowth that promotes and nourishes at the institutional level the need for ever greater investments in military spending, are making a profit. as witnessed by the Russia-Ukraine war.

Even the big banks have their advantage, because wars generate debts for the reconstruction of destroyed infrastructure, and the mission of the banks is precisely to dominate the people through the debts they generate. While it produces only mourning and misery for the populations forced to fratricidal extermination, instigating hatred and violence among people who do not even know each other but who share the same condition of precarious survival, and are led to kill each other in the name of freedom from the stranger and the enemy.

V. THE NEXT CATASTROPHES WITH BIOLOGICAL AND WARLIKE WEAPONS

The above considerations, seemingly far from the subject of the article dedicated to pandemics, actually represent the heart of the problem, and if you want to examine the real causes of inequality, of wars, of the environmental catastrophes that scourge humanity, look for the boundless ambition of domination and profit, whatever the cost, of a small circle of organizations that hold the supranational economic superpower.

Our statements will most likely provoke the accusation of "conspiracy" because they differ from the only dominant thought, which does not admit criticism and not even the benefit of the doubt.

The real "conspiracy theorists" in reality are the custodians of the world's economic-decision-making power, which "plot by vocation" with the sole purpose of increasing their excessive monetary reserves, to subject the peoples of the planet to their will and reduce hunger.

That there is a will to gain control of every activity and people is demonstrated by the following facts:

VI. ORIGIN OF THE TERRORIST ATTACKS

6.1. The attack on the twin towers 11 September 2001, inaugurated the era of Islamic terrorism around the world, but as it will later turn out to finance terrorists were the world's banks, the goal is to destabilize the psychology of the masses, and make them available for control, in the name of the defence and elimination of terrorism [30-32].

The wars declared and sustained for many years against the centers of power of Islamic terrorism have absorbed costs for billions of dollars, and involved the intervention of international powers without obtaining appealing results for security;

6.2. The method of social control through terrorism has been extended to the global level, with the creation in the laboratory of SARS-COV-2 and the spread of the pandemic thus caused;

6.3. The improvement of the system of social control and enslavement was achieved with the adoption of the Green Pass that certifies vaccination, and is the necessary permission to access social services to public bodies and workplaces;

6.4. But the definitive meticulous control of every personal activity has been obtained with a patent and the use of microchip that can be implanted under skin. Some argue that it is present in the inocula for Covid-19 [33-35]. Microchips contain all the sensitive data of every individual, personal identity, affiliation to political organizations, tastes and behavioral trends, etc. It has already been used and made mandatory in China and other countries.

6.5. In this way, making the compulsory vaccination compulsory you can continuously monitor every public and private activity of people.

Our doubts and fears about the use of these technologies with the microchip implant are shared by men of science, religious, university institutions questioning the potentially harmful use for freedoms and personal control [33-35].

Here are some excerpts from an article appeared on the site the way of life, <https://www.laviadellavita.it/> [34]:
"On these topics there is a heated debate: will technology simplify the lives of each of us by improving society or distort our way of life to lead us to dystopian societies such as those painted in many science fiction films? Today, however, we are beginning to talk about transhumanism, that is, man-machine fusion. A fusion that will enhance our capabilities and improve, according to some, our lives. Is this also a normal transition of progress or are we facing an epochal passage that could represent a real threat to humanity?"

So what to do to prepare effectively for the imminent pandemic heralded by the Silicon Valley tycoon? And how to avoid the wars of extermination fuelled in all the latitudes of the earth by unscrupulous powerful?

Two years of pandemic have shown that methods of prevention of infection based on masks, lockdown and vaccinations are ineffective, have numerous adverse effects and favor the emergence of new viral variants, potentially more dangerous than the current ones.

Following the absurd and irrational logic of the preventive measures against Covid-19 adopted until now by the various governments it could be assumed, as a definitive form of protection, the provision of protective suits similar to those of astronauts, to individuals to isolate and defend them from infection.

And, as for the war, we could build bomb-proof bunkers to shelter defenceless populations.

It would be an apocalyptic scenario and a rather unnatural condition absurd but theoretically possible, and certainly consistent with all the absurd preventive measures adopted to date.

We would have a suggestion, regarding the pandemic lets nature run its course, with the so-called herd immunity, where the flock is represented only by the needy peoples, introducing effective preventive measures and strengthening the innate immune defenses, and where necessary use the normal pharmacological devices mentioned above and ad hoc supplements.

As for war, the only solution is conscientious objection, refusing to massacre their fellow men for the thirst for power of colonial states and warmongering institutions.

But let us leave aside any imaginary and sci-fi scenario Kafkaesque, and the ambitions for a desired revolution of popular consciences asleep by psychological conditioning.

In reality, our only salvation, both for the impending pandemic and for the endless wars, lies in the awakening and general critical awareness, in the correct and free information, and in opposing extreme collective resistance to any form of universal biological and military extermination planned for the hegemonic perpetuation of the few.

Our very survival is in danger, and that of our children.

What will be the response of men of culture, scientists and people of good will?

Will they suffer passively again?
